It is understood that Capt. Pickett, who succeeded Schmittberger in the Tenderloin on Jan. 9, 1895, after the Lexow investigation, was deposed because, while he had done satisfactory work in some respects, he had not purged the precinct of street walkers. Capt. Chapman, at any rate, takes command of the Tenderloin as a "reformer." Chief Coulin also shifted the entire Harlem

Chief Conlin also shifted the entire Harlem Court squad, and sent new policemen there. Bergeant Delos Reynolds, who has been in charge of the court for several years, was transferred to the West 125th street station. Sergeant Wilson of the West 125th street station. Sergeant Wilson of the West 125th street station. These patrolmen doing duty in the court were transferred as rollows: John Farrell, to East 104th street; John W. Firming, to Macdougal street; William D. Hickey, to East Eighty-sighth street; John F. Roach, to East Sixty-seventh street; John C. Stevens, to East 104th street; William Egan, to Tremont: John W. Gensheimer, to West 100th street; Patrick Brogan, to East 104th street.
The following patrolmen were transferred to the Harlem Court under the charge of Sergeant Wilson; Charles Smyth of West Thirtieth street, Henry Bloch of Old slip, John Dunn of Elizabeth street, Michael McDermott of Church street, James J. Tuite of Church street, Francis McTaggart of Oak street, and Bernard Wade of East Sixty-seventh street.

Chief Cohlin said there had been many complaints about the policemen attached to the Harlem Court, so he decided to detail a new set of men there altogether. Recently charges were made to the Police Commissioners against Sergeant Reynolds, allegting that the Sergeant and court policemen were in the habit of recommending certain lawyers to prisoners arraigned at the court, for which they received pecuniary confideration. Sergeant Reynolds was tried on charges growing out of the complaint.

Roundsman John Langan was also trans-of the Street Cleasers' Parade. Col. Waring's Conference Committee, composed of delegates from the employees of his department, at their meeting yesterday passed Delegates from twenty-three local unions of the following resolution: That Col. George E. Waring, Jr., be thanked for the untiring, painstaking, and zealous manner in which the parade was organized and managed, so successfully as to bring praise from all sides, even those who had come to scoff and make fun of the humble servants of the and make fun of the hamble servants of the city, and for the great interest he has taken in his employees. We wish to take this opportunity to express, by uhanimous vote, that we think the idea of the parade was not adgested by him for persenal glorf and benefit, as has been suggested by some persons and papers, but, as you have stated and admitted, for the good and benefit of the department; also to show the public where its money has been spent; what a manly and respectable lot of men you could turn out, fine horses, carta, and other equipments, the great need of a large appropriation to sustain and pay such an army of employees, a large part of the community never thinking so many men and carts were actually employed by the department."

Policemen Forrester and Reilly of the Charles street station visited both horels of Sunday evening, and at each place they tried to get something more to eat than a sandwich, but they were not successful. They arrested Cox and Moriarty, and Magistrate Simms sustained them by holding both men for trial.

The Holt Will Contest.

WASHINGTON, June 8 .- The fourth week of the legal contest over the estate of the late Judge Advocate-General Joseph Holt began this moraing. Prof. D. N. Carvalho, the New York handwriting expert, testified to demonstrate that the mysterious will on which the estate is bequeathed way from the natural heirs was not written or signed by Judge Holt. He showed where it was sliogether unlike Judge Holt's writing, and extained at considerable detail the discrepancies between it and ether letters and documents concededly written by the Judge.

Prof. Carvalho, by a chemical test in court, showed that the like with which the will was written was not manufactured until about tea years ago, although the will is dated in 1873, nor was any paper of the kind made for at least ten years after the date of the sileged will. The expert declared that the signature as witness of Gen. Sherman's wife was also a forgery, executed by the same person who had forged the entire document. It was also developed in the course of the testimony that all Judge Lott's letters of 1873 and thereabouts were dried by sanding, while the will was not. ing. Prof. D. N. Flag Day to the Public Schools.

ALBANY, June 8. - The following recommendation as to flag day was sent out to-day by Supermtendent Charles R. Skinner of the State Department of Public Instruction:

June 14 will be the 110th anniversary of the "Jame 14 will be the 119th anniversary of the adoption of the Stars and Strifes as the sational flag of our country. While it is not a level hotically, it seems fitting that the day should be remembered, especially in the schools of the state, in view of the fact that the law requires that the national flag shall float from every public school building. As this anniversary will fall upon Sunday, it is recommended that Monday, the 15th inst., be observed."

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness, without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its bene-ficial effects, to note when you pur-chase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and sold by all rep-utable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, then laxa-tives or other remedies are not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, then one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely med and gives most general satisfaction.

A JERSEY CONSTABLE DUPED. He Permits Farmer Atkinson to Escape

HASBROUCK HEIGHTS, June 8 .- " Little Hen" Haring, the Hackensack constable, who is known as a terror to evildoers, lost some of his prestige last night by permitting the es-cape of a prisoner, and despite his subsequent vigorous action, his official feathers are drooping to-day.

Having received a warrant from Justice Harrison for the arrest of Malto Atkinson and Mrs. Ida M. Meyers, a member of Atkinson's family, on a charge of obtaining $725 from Peter J. Van Iderstine of Ridgefield Park on family, on a charge of obtaining $725 from Peter J. Van Iderstine of Ridgefield Park on false representation. A similar charge is pending against them by Henry Baker, a farmer, living at New Bridge. Atkinson is said to have borrowed the money on the declaration that he owned a 100-acre farm tree and clear, and Mrs. Meyers is charged with being a party to the transaction.

Constable Harling caught Atkinson at the Essex street depart, Hackensack, at 8 o'clock last evening, and placed him under arrest. The accused man requested peranission to go to his home about a mile distant, for ball. As soon as he was in his house he asked Harling for the warrant, saying he wished to copy it in a book, and when the paper was handed to him by the officer Atkinson retired to another room. As he failed to return in a reasonable time, the Constable toked for him, when Axel Atkinson, a brother of the accused, called upon five men present to throw the Constable out.

Haring bolted, running along the Poliffy road, and reaching Hackensack completely pumped. After rallying and securing the backing of five well-armed special officers, he feturated to the Atkinson farm and made a raid. Without commanding anybedy to surrender, the posse stormed the old farmhouse, burst open a door, and captured five men. These were Axel Atkinson, Herman Meyers, Idenry Meyers, John Meyers, and Joseph Larkins, who are now in Hackensack jail charged with interfering with an officer and with aiding a prisoner to escape. Five hundred dollars bail is asked in each case.

The Atkinson brothers are said to be Danes, and the assertion has been made that they belong to the nobility. When they first settled on the Poliffy road farm they affected the airs and garb of cowboys. They came from the West, where they are said to have managed a ranch.

Mailo Atkinson is still at large. The warrant was returned to Haring this morning by a woman from the Atkinson house.

The delegates went on an excursion to Comey Island yesterday, and the Convention will be wound up to-day.

Blackmaller Redner Gets Off Lightly. Roundsman Daniel Redner, who was convicted in the General Sessions last week of attempting to blackmail Otto Bachman of 230 East ing to blackmail Otto Bachman of 230 East Month street, was sentenced yesterday to six months in the penitentiary and a $250 line by Judge Newburger. When sentence was pronunced Angel Dennett of the Parkhurst society, who prosecuted Redner, was heard to exclaim: "My God!" Afterward bennett said that he had no comment to make upon the sentence, but that he was doing a heap of thinking. Redner paid the fine.

Wenny and Barnett Convicted.

Joseph Wenar and Eugene Barnett, the two New Orleans ticket brokers who formed a conspiracy to swindle the Southern Pacific Railroad Company out of $50,000 a year by forged passes, were yesterday convicted of attempted forgery before Judge Fitzgeraid in the General Sessions. They were remanded for sentence.

Conscience Contribution, WASHINGTON, June 8 .- A conscience contribution of $8 from New York, from a man who said he had smoked cigars of his own manufac-ture and had not paid the tax thereon to the amount named, was to-day received at the Treasury Department.
